

'Pork and Beans'

Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies

BULLETIN No. 23

TRAIL RIDE PLANS FOR THIS SUMMER

OWING to uncertainty as to whether some of the trail on the route proposed at the Pow Wow of 1929 for the Trail Ride of 1930 would be passable, the issue of this bulletin has been somewhat delayed. But now we have the assurance from the Commissioner of Parks that the money has been earmarked for cutting the trail from Red Earth Creek to Hawk Creek, and the route from Floe Lake over the high levels to the Wolverine Plateau is feasible. It has therefore been decided to follow this original route, and the date of the four-day Trail Ride has been fixed as from July 31st to August 3rd. Owing to the heavy snows that have fallen this winter it is inadvisable to start earlier, and the date selected is still early enough to enable those who wish to attend the Alpine Club Camp to do so.

The map on the centre pages shows approximately the route proposed, though the exact location of the first day's camp is uncertain. We shall motor from Banff on the morning of the 31st to where the horses are in waiting and ride up Red Earth Creek, past our camping ground of last year on Shadow Lake, up Haiduk Creek and over a pass down Hawk Creek. Floe Lake on the other side of the Banff-Windermere Highway is a miniature edition of the Lake of the Hanging Glaciers. This lies under the great Rock Wall at the base of which along the glaciers we shall ride, mostly above timber line to our old camping ground of 1926, on the Wolverine Plateau. The Pow Wow will be held at Marble Canyon, from which busses and cars will convey the Riders to Banff or Lake Louise. The rate for the four-day Trail Ride will be $50 exclusive of the cost of seat on a bus to Banff or Lake Louise, which will probably be $3 extra.

On August 7th, if there are sufficient reservations, a riding, camping and fishing Trail Ride will start from Banff going north and returning to Banff on August 17th. Rates for this will be $100.

A HISTORY OF THE TRAIL RIDERS

The following is an extract from an article in "The Rider and Driver", issue of January 4, 1930, and as it contains a record of the Trail Riders which may not be so familiar to more recent members, it is here reprinted:—

Riding at a pace which averages not more than three miles an hour may seem somewhat tame to those accustomed to riding to hounds, and yet there are accomplished riders who at the end of an eight-hour trail ride in the Rockies will agree that there was never a day better spent, and who are glad enough that there is a night's rest between them and the next acquaintance with the saddle. Not that the trails require an expert rider, but one certainly has to keep one's eyes open and have nerves ready for all kinds of unexpected happenings, for there are thrills when it comes to plunging down a steep bank to ford a swift glacial river or scraping through the timber to get round a windfall on a narrow trail.

In the case of the writer, trail riding commenced as an incidental to trout fishing, as the lakes in the immediate neighborhood of Banff and Lake Louise were more or less fished out. To get to the less accessible waters one has to ride and, more than that, one has to camp out. And so one discovers the ideal trip—a jaunt of about ten days through mountain passes and over high trails to practically virgin lakes and rivers set among the most magnificent mountains in the world. There are not always trout in these lakes or rivers, but therein lies the sport. For the sake of the horses—and there have to be horses, a guide and a cook on such an expedition, camp has to be made near water. The average trout in the Canadian Rockies apparently takes two meals a day, one just about sunrise and the other towards sunset, so while the guide is making or breaking camp you have time to cast a fly. Since it is not worth while fishing in the heat of the day, you may as well ride on to another spot—and so with constant change of scenery and different waters in which to try your skill, you have infinite variety on your riding trips.

It was on such a trip six years ago that the Order known as The Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies was founded. H. B. Clow, President of the Rand-McNally Company, of Chicago, who frequently makes riding and camping trips in the Canadian Northwest, spoke so enthusiastically to the writer about the spectacular scenery of the Wolverine Plateau, that a party set out from Lake Windermere to verify his description—Reginald Townsend, Editor of Country Life in America, and Mrs. Townsend, R. H. Palenske, an artist of Chicago, Byron Harmon, who has been exploring and photographing these regions for twenty years, and others, all under the guidance of Walter Nixon, an old-timer of these parts. Eight days were allotted to the trip, but a blizzard on the Wolverine Plateau lengthened it to ten. However, as camp was pitched on an acre-wide carpet of white heather, and nothing is more comfortable than a teepee, everyone was happy. Just when the skies began to clear, someone called out "Buttons," and propounded the scheme of an Order in which buttons of various grades should be given to those who rode fifty, a hundred, five hundred, a thousand or two thousand five hundred miles of trail. Palenske undertook to design the button, and so the Order was founded with a Constitution which specifies that membership should be open to all "irrespective of age, sex, creed, color or profession." The first aims of the Order are specified as:

(a) To encourage travel on horseback through the Canadian Rockies; to foster the maintenance and improvement of old trails and the building of new trails; to advocate and practice consideration for horses, and to promote the breeding of saddle horses suitable for high altitudes; to foster good-fellowship among those who visit and live in these glorious mountains; to encourage the love of outdoor life, the study and conservation of birds, wild animals and alpine flowers; to protect the forests against fire; to assist in every way possible to ensure the complete preservation of the National Parks of Canada for the use and enjoyment of the public; to create an interest in Indian customs, costumes and traditions; to encourage the preservation of historic sites as related to the fur-trade and early explorers, and to co-operate with other organizations with similar aims.

(b) To prepare and circulate maps, descriptions and illustrations of existing and proposed trails, and the country to which they give access in the Canadian Rockies, and to publish from time to time literature pertaining to such trails and the work of this Order.

Article (b) was carried out through the generosity of Mr. Clow, who set his map makers to work on a series of maps which co-ordinated all the existing mapwork done by the Federal and Provincial Governments on bridle trails in the National Parks of the Dominion of Canada.

The late Dr. Walcott, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, took a keen interest in the Order and consented to be its Honorary President, although he was already beginning to drop many of the organizations with which he was identified. The first President was Colonel W. W. Foster, of Vancouver, formerly Deputy-Minister of Public Works in the Government of British Columbia. The second was J. M. Wardle, Chief Engineer for the Dominion Parks. Last year Carl Rungius, N.R.A., took the chief office and was succeeded at the last Pow-Wow by Walter D. Wilcox, of Washington, D.C., well-known writer and explorer.

The membership of the Order already numbers about fifteen hundred riders, of whom about a hundred have qualified for the highest grade of button by riding 2,500 miles of trail. Through the instigation of the Order approximately five hundred miles of new trails have been cut either by the Government or by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The guides who a few years ago were being driven out of business by the motor car are now busy all summer, and a number of younger guides have been recruited to supplement the older men. Saddle horses are once more in demand, and Pat Brewster, of Banff, who is now the largest outfitter for long distance camping trips, is sending out parties every day during the months of July and August, each party equipped with ten to twenty-five horses.

Each summer, usually about the end of July, there is an Official Trail Ride under the direction of Lt.-Col. Phil A. Moore, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Order, a graduate of Princeton, who served with distinction in the Canadian Army during the Great War. This ride lasts four or five days, and is arranged over spectacular routes, usually with Banff or Lake Louise as starting points. Last summer's ride followed a trail over the eight thousand feet high Simpson Pass alongside the almost unknown Egypt Lakes to Shadow Lake, under the glacier of Mount Ball; thence by a new trail to Twin Lakes, which had not been fished for seven years, and provided over a hundred riders with a delicious breakfast, ending up with the Annual Pow-Wow at Castle Mountain Bungalow Camp. The Order has a musical director, with the aid of a portable organ, carried on a pack-pony. There is a rousing Sing-Song each night in camp. The Trail Riders' Song Sheet contains sixty appropriate parodies on popular songs, and there is always musical talent to supplement the choruses.

A more ideal way of seeing the Canadian Rockies could not be conceived. The company is

Mr. Byron Harmon,
Banff, Alta.

My Dear Mr. Harmon,—

Your suggestion with regard to cleaning up the Camps of the Trail Riders is not only in accordance with my ideas, but has been ever since my earliest trips in the Canadian Rockies. I trust that your committee will be able to decide upon some concrete rules or suggestions that may be brought to the attention of the Trail Riders either by publication in one of the bulletins or in some other form, before the next Trail Ride.

In general, it seems to be that an effort should be made to leave all luncheon places and camping grounds as nearly in their original state of cleanliness and beauty as is humanly possible. This depends somewhat upon the willingness of each Trail Rider to be responsible for the burning or destruction of the remains of his own luncheon on the trails and to be sure to put out any fires he may build.

The main responsibility for the cleaning up of the camps, however, necessarily depends upon the concurrence and intelligence of the guides and cooks. It might be well to appoint and empower one of the head guides with the duty of seeing to it that all forms of indestructible rubbish be buried and to make such disposal of clean garbage as will insure its actual destruction by the elements in the course of time.

One of the aims of the Trail Riders, as stated in the Constitution, is the protection of the forest from fire. It seems to me that the Trail Riders might very well amplify this to include the ruthless and unnecessary waste of trees by the axe. Could not one of the guides be charged with the duties of seeing to it that as few green trees as possible shall be cut at any time and none whatever along the shores of lakes or other scenic points. At our camp at Twin Lakes a number of fine trees were cut down on the lake shore for no other purpose than to provide a temporary sitting place or a few boughs for beds.

These few suggestions have been made with no other purpose than to amplify or duplicate ideas that may have already occurred to you. Hoping that your committee will be able to offer some general suggestions for the cleanliness of our camps and the protection of our forest trees some time before our next Trail Ride, I am, with all best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

WALTER D. WILCOX.

congenial, the rides are not too strenuous, the scenery is unparalleled on this Continent. Although a doctor is always included on these Official Trail Rides, his services have so far never been required except for an occasional scratch or for cases of indigestion which follow at times on too hearty appetites induced by such delightful exercise.

A WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

During one of the discussions at the Pow Wow last summer, Byron Harmon made a suggestion that members of the Order of Trail Riders should set an example to others in the matter of keeping a clean camp. Walter D. Wilcox, our President, followed this up by a letter which was read at an Executive Committee meeting and which contained so much good advice that the Secretary asked for permission to print it.

It is our intention to reprint this, together with Col. Moore's "Hints For the Annual Trail Ride" from Bulletin 22, in one handy little brochure, so that those who join our Rides may be well posted on the etiquette of the Trail and conform to the high ideals of the Constitution.

The Trails at Jasper will be busier than ever this summer as the Alpine Club of Canada is having its Annual Camp at Maligne Lake, the date of the Camp being from July 28th to August 16th. Major Fred Brewster is Chairman of Jasper Squadron of the Trail Riders.
